

In Hot Springs Sunday I asked Governor Francis Cherry: "Governor, the No. 1 recommendation of the Joint Tax Revision Committee last November was that the elective system of county assessors be replaced by long-term, better-paid assessors appointed at the county level. Our state-wide voluntary committee felt that assessors had to have protection from political reprisals if we expected the proposed reform in property assessing to be effective. But on reading the text of your proposed constitutional amendment changing the property tax setup I don't find any mention of the assessors. Are they to remain elective?"

I expected a hard look from the governor—but he merely grinned and told the truth. He said:

"We took half a loaf because half a loaf is better than none. The pressure on us was too strong. It was either keep the elective system of tax assessors or never get our property tax reform amendment before the people at all."

"How, then," I asked him, "do you propose to enforce equitable assessments in counties where the elective tax assessor succumbs to local political pressure?"

"Through the state equalization board," said Governor Cherry. "It would require all county assessors to follow uniform standards. And the individual property owner would, of course, retain at all times his right to appeal to the courts."

The foregoing was part of a question-and-answer session Sunday afternoon in the Arlington hotel following a speech by Governor Cherry made in behalf of his property tax amendment before the annual meeting of the Arkansas Associated Press. It made a good impression on the men and women who own and operate the daily newspapers of Arkansas.

As a member of the Joint Tax Revision Committee of last fall I was keenly disappointed when the text of the governor's amendment disclosed that the provision for appointive tax assessors never was submitted to the legislature. But, as Mr. Cherry told us Sunday in Hot Springs, if it had been included the legislature would have killed the entire constitutional proposal.

The governor feels this is the best we can do for the present, but it will at least be a start toward property tax reform—establishing uniform assessing methods and requiring elective county assessors to be responsible to a state equalization board for living up to those standards.

I believe The Star will continue to support the Cherry property tax amendment—but that doesn't mean we won't continue to work for an appointive system of tax assessors. Some day the people will initiate and adopt their own constitutional amendment—doing directly what the legislature has refused to do—just as the people have done in the past on such diversified questions as workmen's compensation and state-wide stock law.

Fulton Man Stabbed at Texarkana

TEXARKANA — Cecil Smith, 33, of Fulton, Arkansas was in a serious condition at St. Michael's Hospital Sunday as a result of a stab wound inflicted Saturday night while he was attending a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Scarbrough of North Kenwood Road.

Charged with assault with intent to murder is Mrs. Imogene Gilbert, about 25, Smith's cousin and mother of two children. She is being held in the Texarkana, Texas city jail under $1,000 bond.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Dale said the knife occurred about 11 p.m. shortly after a fight took place between the men attending the party. Scarbrough, Mrs. Gilbert's husband Earl, and Smith. The Gilberts reside at the Scarbrough home.

Mrs. Laura Woodley, 516 Hickory, Smith's sister, who was a witness to the knife, told officers the fight apparently had been settled and she and her brother were getting into his car when Smith was stabbed.

Dale said Mrs. Woodley related that she saw Mrs. Gilbert come out of the house with her hands behind her. She told Dale that she shouted a warning to her brother, but that the knife had been driven into Smith's back, just above his kidney.

Sheriff W. J. Wallington and Dale arrested Mrs. Gilbert at the Scarbrough home shortly after the stabbing.

Dale said neither Smith nor Mrs. Gilbert could give any motive for the stabbing.

Heavy Frost Damage Believe to Be Light

A heavy frost greeted this section of Arkansas early Monday but so far as could be determined the damage may be only to potato slips, according to the University of Arkansas Experiment Station here.

The mercury went down to 31 degrees last night with a high of 58. The last killing frost in 1952 was recorded on March 24 and the latest killing frost on record was April 17, 1951.

An Experiment Station attendant said this morning that tomatoes didn't seem to be hurt—in fact everything seemed all right but potato slips.

Bell Claims Need of $2 Million More

LITTLE ROCK — Southwestern Bell Telephone Company said today it needs additional revenues of more than $2 million a year to meet higher wages and income taxes.

The company is seeking a permanent increase of $2.3 million in telephone rates. The Public Service Commission began hearings on the request today.

The rate boost went into effect last Sept. 21 under bond, providing that the difference between the temporary and previous rates would be refunded to customers if the new increase was deemed unjustified.

Ed L. Wright, Southwestern Bell attorney, said that wages had increased $1.2 million since the last rate increase and that income taxes had risen from 38 to 52 percent. Additional revenues of $400,000 a year are required to meet those higher taxes, he added.

Wright declared that an additional $500,000 is required annually by the company due to increased investment costs.

Company Attorney Blake Downie told the Commission that Bell has averaged only two per cent on its Arkansas operations since the end of World War II, and "in no year has the company earned more than four per cent."

The company says if it were earning a return of six per cent on its net investment in Arkansas that this still would be inadequate. The firm has not said what it considered a fair return on its investment.

Judgments for $21,000 Are Handed Down

Three lawsuits seeking judgment for a total of $104,000 ended Saturday with a Hempstead Circuit Court jury awarding the plaintiffs a total of $21,000.

The suits resulted from an accident near Hope in which a soldier, John Paris, was killed, Joseph Paris, father of the dead soldier, received judgment for $15,000. Two other plaintiffs involved, Donald Decker and Robert Hackler, were awarded $3,000 each.

The defendants were Jake Livingston and Floyd Hansen, owner and driver of a vehicle involved.

W. S. Atkins was attorney for the plaintiffs and Mitchell Sparks for the defendants.

Making $75,000 a Year Must Be Important Factor in Making Aged Actor Feel, Talk Young

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — All the free souls aren't young.

The most youthful-looking independent-minded fellow in town today is a 75-year-old gent who drags down about $75,000 a year, wears a blue beret and a monocle—and likes to munch jelly beans.

He is Charles Coburn, the sprightly dean of a place called Hollywood, which sometimes has been described as seven villages in search of a town.

Charlie has acted in 400 plays and 53 pictures, and he has played so many old codger roles his face is perhaps better known—across America than Whistler's mother.

Off screen, Charlie is definitely a young codger, indeed, with spring in his step and summer in his heart. No studio has ever been able to chain him to a long-term contract.

"I like to be free to do what I like," he said, as we chatted in his hotel suite. On the table before him were a bunch of jelly beans. On his desk was a magazine called "Lifetime Living"—For people who plan ahead.

Coburn started his movie career in 1937 after the death of his wife, with whom he had toured for 32 years. The two once played in the old Coburn Theater, which now stands shuttered and dark on West 63rd street.

"No, I won't go by to look at it," he said. "It would only make me feel sad."

Charlie doesn't believe in looking back or letting yourself feel blue and lonely. He always wants to try something new. Recently he finished his latest picture, "Trouble Along the Way," and is looking forward to attending his first Kentucky Derby.

Unemployment Case Involving Hope Industries, Worker Ruled on by Supreme Court

By LEON HATCH
LITTLE ROCK — The Arkansas Supreme Court said today that an employee who quits a job he knew was temporary is not entitled to draw unemployment benefits immediately if he had previously voluntarily left a permanent job.

The Arkansas Employment Security Law says that a person who voluntarily and without good cause leaves a job is not entitled to benefits until 10 weeks from the date of his last employment.

In its decision, the Court interrupted "last employment" as being the last permanent employment.

Mark Phillips, an employee of the Hope Brick Works at Hope for some 20 years, quit his job early in October, 1951. He went to California, where he worked briefly, and then returned to Hope.

Phillips attempted unsuccessfully to get back his job with the brick works and later, in January, 1952, was taken on as a temporary employee by the Union Compress and Warehouse Co., of Hope.

After this temporary job ended, Phillips filed for unemployment compensation, which would have to be paid from contributions of the brick works.

The Employment Security Division held that Phillips' last employment was with the brick works. Continued on Page Two

Court Upholds 'Bank Night' Deadline

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — A man who waited past a 24-hour deadline to claim a cash prize at a motion picture's "bank night" has no valid claim to the award, the Arkansas Supreme Court held today.

The court ruled in a 5-1 opinion that David Castelli, a Sevier county farmer, could not force the Heratoc Theater at Horatio to pay him a $70 prize.

Castelli and his wife had attended the theater on a Tuesday night, Aug. 28, 1951, and registered for a bank night drawing that took place the following night.

Castelli's number was drawn, but he did not learn of it until he returned home from a trip to Texarkana early the following Friday morning.

He went immediately to the home of the theater cashier, who informed him that he was too late and that a winner had to call for his prize 24 hours after the drawing, under rules of the contest. Castelli was about three hours too late.

The Supreme Court opinion, written by Associate Justice J. S. Holl, held that evidence indicated Castelli was aware of the rules governing the drawings and winners. The court affirmed a Sevier Circuit Court ruling.

Holl's opinion also cited the Arkansas law that legalizes such drawings. A 1947 statute says that such advertising plans as "bank night, buck nite or any other name" are legal.

Associate Justice Sam Robinson dissented from the majority ruling. In other action, the court upheld a $1,920 damage award to Marion F. Patton as the result of a car-truck collision in El Dorado. Patton's car collided with a truck owned by Dowell, Inc., a company that was ordered to pay Patton for damages to his car, for personal injuries and for loss of time from his work.

Battle Shapes on Plan for Agriculture

WASHINGTON (UP) — A Senate battle is shaping up over President Eisenhower's plan to reorganize the agriculture department.

Democrats are complaining that it could make Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson a farm czar. And some farm state Republicans remain to be convinced about the plan which would best directly in Benson many of the responsibilities now held by his subordinates.

As Sen. Lester Hill (D-Ala.) put it: "We want to know what it means. On the face of it, the plan seems to concentrate unprecedented power, tremendous power, in the secretary."

"Mr. Benson should come to Capitol Hill and tell us precisely what he has in mind."

Sen. Hubert E. Humphrey (D-Minn.) appealed to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) chairman of the government operations subcommittee on reorganization, to request testimony from Benson "in detail." The committee was expected to do just this within the next few days.

Longshore Chief Indicted for Misuse of Fund

NEW YORK (UP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) was arrested today on a 90-count indictment charging him with grand larceny of $11,390 in union funds.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said the indictment covers the period from April 14, 1948 to April 16, 1951. Financial records of the ILA showed that in the calendar years 1948-1951 Ryan received from the union, $46,626 in excess of his $20,000 a year salary.

Ryan claimed he used the money "to fight Communists on the waterfront."

Hogan said the indictment was based on testimony given by Ryan before the New York State Crime Commission. Ryan acknowledged that he had used money from his "anti-Communist fund" to buy fancy shirts, a family funeral, a cruise to Guatemala and a Stork Club luncheon and to pay insurance premiums and some taxes.

Ryan said he'd paid that money back to the fund but was unable Continued on Page Two

Ripley's Odd Collection to Show Here

Robert Ripley's collection of "Believe It or Not" oddities, being exhibited on national tour under auspices of Navy Club of the USA, will be presented in Hope on Wednesday, April 15.

Believe It or Not cartoons have been appearing in newspapers throughout the world for years. On display in this exhibit will be some of the original drawings picturing facts which many find difficult to believe. The greater portion of the exhibit features part of Ripley's amazing collection of the authentic original subjects on which his cartoons are based. Every item is selected from the unusual assortment of strange things which Mr. Ripley spared no effort or expense to unearth during his endless explorations of all parts of the world.

The mobile exhibit is mounted in a special custom-built trailer featuring the world-famous "Man or Image" for which Ripley searched for 20 years. The life-size figure is a master piece of exact and realistic detail. Not only is it an exact counterpart of the artist in size, body features, skin color and texture, but it contains the artist's own hair, teeth, fingernails and toenails, pulled by the artist from his body and inserted one by one, in hollow bored for them.

Included in this exhibit are mysterious oddities and wonders of every age and every part of the world. There is a skeleton of a two-headed baby, a petrified mermaid, a collection of wooden nickels, and dozens of other amazing items.

In addition to the countless articles with curiosity or oddity significance are a large number of rare relics and collectors items, such as the entire constitution of the United States written within the area of a three-cent postage stamp, the crucifix fish, and scolds mask used to silence a nagging woman.

Location of the showing will be at 2nd and Main Sts. (front of Scott's). Admission is free, and the exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Any funds raised through voluntary donations will be used by the National Headquarters and Local Ships of Navy Club of the USA to assist them in carrying on their services to veterans.

18,000 Take Part in Snake Hunt

WAYNOKA, Okla. — An estimated 18,000 gunless hunters stalked rattlesnakes in the hills around Waynoka yesterday and brought back over a thousand alive.

The hunt, which kicks off the "rattlesnake season" in Oklahoma, will be followed next week by the famous annual Okefenokee, Okla., rattler roundup, considered the daddy of them all.

As certain as the coming of spring, each year thrill seekers from all over the nation pack the little Northwestern Oklahoma communities to track down rattlers. Dangerous? Yes but not as bad as it may sound.

Rattler-wise hunters who wouldn't come within a country mile of their fangs in summer and fall know they can battle it out on even terms in April and come out ahead, alive, and usually unharmed.

Ammo Supply Depleted Says Sen. Byrd

WASHINGTON — A Senate inquiry into ammunition shortages was sidetracked temporarily today by insistence of Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) that no committee meet during the Senate debate on the submerged oil lands issue.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.), chairman of the investigating Senate Armed Services subcommittee, called off today's hearing. She said she hoped Morse would change his position so the inquiry could be gotten underway again Wednesday.

Normally, the Senate grants an unanimous approval for committees to continue their work while the Senate is in session. But Morse has said he would not give his approval to such meetings during the submerged oil lands issue.

Actually Group Will Arrive at Kaesong Earlier

By LEROY HANSEN
PANNMUNJOM, Korea, (Tuesday) (UP)—A small band of sick and wounded Allied prisoners of war begins a jolting ride today down today down the bomb-torn roads of North Korea.

The 600 prisoners, including 120 Americans, will pass through "freedom gate" at Pannmunjom next Monday, four days after their ride comes to an end at Kaesong, the Red base camp.

The 600 are being exchanged for 5,000 Communist prisoners under an agreement finally ironed out yesterday by liaison officers representing the U. N. and the Communists.

Twenty trucks and ambulances were to leave the small village of Chemma, close to the Manchurian border, at 6 a. m. (4 p. m. local Monday) for the 200-mile ride to Kaesong. Three other vehicles will join them on the way.

The prisoners will have a rough ride over North Korean roads, crisscrossed by the incessant bombing of United Nations warplanes.

An Air Force officer said today there was "no chance" that Allied planes will halt their operations during the three days it will take the convoy to reach Kaesong.

However, the Reds gave the U. N. two large scale maps showing what route the convoy will take and where it will stop at night. This was so U. N. pilots could guard against accidentally bombing or strafing it.

Although the prisoners will arrive at Kaesong on Thursday, the Reds will hold them there until Monday.

Cdr. Willard E. Carleton, of Gilchrist, Tex., Allied administrative officer, said the delay might be to give the Communists time to change bandages and food and rest the prisoners. He said the Reds probably would want them to make a good appearance when they are turned over.

Planes, Ships Blast Red Installations

By ROBERT UDICK
SEOUL, Korea (UP) — The BattleShip New Jersey and 73 planes from two aircraft carriers today destroyed half of the port of Chongjin only 55 miles from the Russian border.

Sixteen-inch guns on the New Jersey rained shells on the vital Communist port and supply center. The shells hit the port and the city, destroying half of the port of Chongjin only 55 miles from the Russian border.

The jets and propeller-driven planes from the carrier Philipps and the New Jersey, dramatically ruptured the North Korean war, ruined warehouses, power plants and storage areas.

It was the first big attack on the port since March 21 when 175 carrier based planes dropped 200 tons of bombs on the city.

The Navy reported at 3 p. m. (1 a. m. EST) that the attack on Chongjin was "still raging." Two hours later, the Navy said the New Jersey had scored seven direct hits in seven minutes on the Communists' main communications building, destroying it. Aircraft spotters said about half of the vital communications hub had been blown up.

Farther south, the Cruiser Los Angeles worked over supply routes in the battered port of Wonsan.

PARACHUTE FOR JETS
BURBANK, Calif., (UP) — Lock head Aircraft Corp. has successfully tested a parachute to help break the landing of a jet fighter plane.

A ribbon-type chute, popping from the tail of the new P-80C Starfire jet, cuts the plane's runway roll nearly in half, the company announced yesterday.

A list naming all persons receiving welfare checks in Hempstead is now available for public inspection at the County Clerk's office. All you have to do is go to the clerk's office and ask to see the list. Many persons, over 1,000 dropped off the rolls when it was learned that it would be made public and others probably will follow.

At Hot Springs yesterday Governor Cherry said that income tax returns of close relatives of persons on the welfare would soon be available and many will be forced to help take care of their own.

Unemployment

employment was the complete turn over and that since he did not find there voluntarily he was entitled to immediate benefits.

The Unemployment Court took a similar view, but the Supreme Court opinion overruled the lower court and said that Phillips would have to wait 10 weeks before his benefits started.

The court in an opinion written by Justice Paul Ward, Jr., recognized that "in a liberal society, Phillips' last employment was with the company but we do not think that a liberal society is compatible with the strict and purpose of the Employment Security Act."

The court said the company could not be considered late employment in the sense that Phillips was immediately eligible to draw benefits.

Justice Ward said, "The company is a profitable and successful. If an employee quits a permanent job to take a better job which he thinks will be permanent and then loses the second employment through no fault of his own he should not be penalized."

However, after quitting a permanent job he should not be allowed to take a job which he would have left only one or two days and then leave himself from the 10 week disqualification period, no money penalty is imposed, but only a postponement of the time when benefits are received.

The court upheld a $1,020 judgment obtained by Marion J. Patterson, against Powell Corp., in which Phillips' last employment was with the company.

The court said that the Missis- sippi County Circuit Court, Chick- saw County Circuit Court, and the Arkansas Supreme Court had all ruled in favor of Phillips.

definite proof he was not of sound

The will disputed that the entire to show records of such repayment in the books which were in the commission's hands.

The indictment returned Friday
by a New York county grand jury charges the 68 year old union leader with three counts of grand larceny in the first degree and 27 counts of grand larceny in the second degree.

Hogan described the indictment as "preliminary" and said it was returned at this time because the statute of limitations is about to run out on three of the counts, charging thefts on April 14, 15 and 16, 1948.

"I don't like to be indicted at this stage of the game," he said.
He is under orders from the American Federation of Labor to clean up his union by the end of this month or face AFL expulsion for the corrupt practices disclosed in the State Crime Commission's sensational public hearing into a waterfront crime and corruption.

NEW YORK (UP)—Joseph P.
Ryan, president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), is reported under indictment on a charge of misuse of union funds.

Ryan has been ordered to appear today at the office of Dist.
Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

Newspapers reported today that Ryan was indicted late Friday night by a county grand jury and that the call to the district attorney's office resulted from the indictment.

Hogan's office refused comment on the report of the indictment.

Ryan's union attorney, Louis Waldman, said last night he had been notified Friday to take Ryan to Hogan's office today. Waldman said he did not know whether an indictment had been returned against the 68 year old union head.

"That doesn't mean it might not be true," the lawyer added.

Ryan told newsmen last night that he knew nothing about the reports of the indictment. "I don't know what the district attorney wants to see me about," he said.

"All I know is that he told my lawyer to have me down there."

Grand jury investigation of Ryan's affairs started after his appearance as a witness before the New York State Crime Commission.

Various aspects of waterfront evils have been under grand jury inquiry since the crime commission turned up testimony about crimes from pilferage to murder, and of racketeering by officials of Ryan's union. A number of union officials have been indicted.

Ryan admitted to the crime commission Jan. 30 that he mis-gled union funds with his own. The commission heard testimony that Ryan had taken $241,007 out of his organization in the preceding five years. The listing included salary of $115,000 and such items as $12,494 to buy Cadillac, $14,600 for a cruise to Guatemala, $1,332 for

Circus Coming to Hope on April 23

Circus day is rapidly approaching and by this time this entire area is circus minded, all because the big Diano Bros. Three Ring Circus will give two performances in Hope on April 23rd with the Lions Club as sponsors.

Not only the title is new, but the entire outfit, equipment, organization and performance is absolutely new.

It is impossible to exaggerate the merit, novelty and originality of the two hour circus program.

The management insists it cannot be excelled.

The street parade which represents an investment of almost a quarter million dollars is fair index of the Diano Bros. Circus.

The Diano Bros. Circus is one show that urges its patrons to spend at least a half hour in the big menagerie and not to rush into the big top to get seats. There are seats for thousands in the big top, room for everyone.

There are so many real features in the menagerie which cost a small fortune to secure. For this reason the circus management is most serious when it advises every one not to hurry through the menagerie.

Perhaps the greatest, most expensive and most unusual attraction in the menagerie, is Mollie, the big white rhinoceros, a one ton beast. This is the only white rhinoceros in America. There are others of that specie, but not any white ones. Mollie has the distinction of having been a prominent movie actress. She and her mate were conspicuous in the picture King Solomon's Mines, written by J. Rider Haggard, and also in the famous picture by the Twentieth Century-Fox Studios, written by Ernest Hemingway known as "The Snows of Kilimanjaro."

In addition to Mollie, the white rhinoceros, several other animals of the Diano Bros. Circus have been in these and other pictures.

Tony Diano, founder and general manager of the Diano Bros. Circus says he has drifted into the circus business because of his love for animals, however a business associate says it is because he was born with saw dust on his feet.

Yes circus day is just around the corner, and is your Phone Ringing? Answer it. Its your Lions golf club dues and other charges, $478 funeral expenses for a sister-in-law and $10,774 for insurance premiums.

Ryan testified he also had drawn on his own bank accounts to pay union expenses. He admitted he did not keep his personal finances separate from a "private fund" to which he said stegmship and steve doring company officials made cash donations. The fund, Ryan said, was to gather information about Communist activities in his union and on the piers generally.

Charged With
Kidnapping

DE QUEEN (AP)—A 20-year-old barmaid and nightclub entertainer has been charged with kidnapping a Mexican baby and bringing him here, says the FBI.

M. W. McFarlin, chief of the Little Rock District, said Myrtle Bell Tipton had the 14-month-old boy, Juan Guillermo Flores, when the FBI arrested her Saturday at the home of her sister in DeQueen.
She is being held in Miller County jail at Texarkana under $5,000 bond.

The baby is at a DeQueen hospital awaiting the arrival of his mother, Mrs. Consuelo Flores.

Miss Tipton had been working in night clubs at Juarez, Mexico, with the baby's mother, McFarlin said. She received the mother's permission to take the boy on a shopping tour April 2, McFarlin said. But when she failed to return with the child the next day, the mother notified police.

McFarlin quoted Miss Tipton as saying she took the child across the border to El Paso, Tex., and with a cab driver told her she violated the law by transporting a Mexican national across the border she became panicky and took off for Arkansas. The baby developed measles on the way.

U. S. Attorney Holwey Williams of El Paso filed a kidnapping charge against Miss Tipton, Mc-Farlin said.

70. fell in love with horses, and now owns a stable of top trotters and pacers. He spends the summer touring the state fair circuit with them.

"The horses are more than a hobby," he said. "I'll make money on them this year."

"A horse is different from a woman. You can't buy his affection. And he always remembers you. I can go to a field and call one of my horses I haven't seen for a year — and he'll come running for a kiss and a lump of sugar."

Charlie's favorite vices besides jelly beans are cigars, liquor, poker and gin rummy — all practiced in moderation. This is his philosophy after 63 years on stage.

"Don't worry. Don't fear death. Don't over-eat, over-drink. Don't take violent exercise, don't over-indulge in anything. My single exception is dancing. I can dance all night with a good partner."

And Charlie added, his eyes twinkling:

"I have no morals, and I don't moralize."

The phone rang then, and Coburn stared balefully at it through his monocle and said wistfully:

"Point killer."

Charlie once was known as the world's highest paid actor because he got $10,000 for saying a single line.

"I've forgotten the line now,"

Rae, Sr., explaining the pictures.

Plans for a picnic to be held next month were made. Bubble gum and "Keep Arkansas Green Woody Woodpecker" books were given each member by Mrs. McKine of the Rose Garden Club, Mrs. Graydon Anthony of the Lilac Club, and Mrs. Frank Walters of the Iris Club.

Heavy Frost

In New England, showers on the Northern Pacific coast and some snow in the Northern Rock Mountains.

Freezing temperatures were reported as far south as West Central Illinois and Central Kansas. Mlrot, N. D. reported 16 degrees.

A storm center off the Southern New England coast brought rain and strong winds to that area, and during the night as far west as Ohio and Southern Indiana.

Showers and thunderstorms in Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas dumped as much as 2.57 inches on Atlanta and 3 inches on Appala chie, Fla.

By The Associated Press

Light to heavy frost enveloped much of Arkansas last night bringing the threat of damage to some crops, especially strawberries and golden vegetables.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said that of points reporting as of 7 a. m. today, only Georgetown, Morrilton and Clarendon had no frost.

Fayetteville reported the state's low temperature of 23. Other readings included Flippin, 29; Batesville, DeQueen, Rogers and Ozark, 30; Ft. Smith, 31; Arkadelphia, 32; Dardanelle, 34; El Dorado, 35; Texarkana, Newport and Morrilton, 36; and Little Rock, 40.

No rain or storms were reported in Arkansas.

The Weather Bureau forecast fair skies this afternoon and tonight with slightly warmer temperatures in west portion tonight. Low readings of 35-45 tonight with scattered frost in east portion was forecast, partly cloudy skies and a little warmer Tuesday.

Dr. Victory M. Watts, horticulturist, said the frost apparently did not damage crops badly in Northwest Arkansas, however, he said it was too early to determine actual damage.

He said strawberries may have been damaged.

Agriculturists at Rogers said they doubted that peaches and apples were damaged to any extent by the 30-degree temperatures and heavy frost in that area. He added, however, that strawberries and garden crops probably were hurt some.

Sevier County Agent Victory Ivy said the frost was a setback to the strawberries in the vicinity of DeQueen, but it was too early to determine the damage in dollars and cents. Peaches in that area were not hurt much, Ivy said.

The Cullinan diamond weighed one and a third pounds when found in South Africa in 1905.

he remarked. "It wasn't one for the ages."

Another time he got $15,000 for a single movie scene that the public never saw. Charlie was paid $10,000 for it, but the director another $5,000 it would be cut from the final film. It was.

A long life has left Coburn with only two more goals.

"A man has to be careful not to start repeating himself," he said. "So I would like to do something I have never done before in the theater — anything, trash, bright, and new. And I would like to see the 16th amendment to the Constitution repealed."

That amendment is the one that created the income tax, and when ever Charlie talks about it the eye behind his monocle sees red. Looks red, too. How's a spry young guy turning 70 ever going to pile up any jelly beans for his old age?

Ammo Supply

Senate debate on submerged lands expected to continue all week.

Three Pentagon generals, responsible for production, distribution and stockpiling of Army ammunition, had been called to testify today, and Sen. Smith had said that "broad and searching questions" were to be asked.

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Sen. Byrd (Va.) said today the ammunition supply "in this country is dangerously depleted" although current supplies in the Far East, including Korea, may be adequate.

"It took two years to get deliveries on what they ordered after the Korean outbreak and there still is not enough ammunition," Byrd said in an interview.

His comments came as three Pentagon generals, responsible for production, distribution and stockpiling of Army ammunition, were called before a Senate subcommittee investigating reported shell shortages in Korea.

Those scheduled as witnesses were Maj. Gen. E. L. Ford, chief of ordnance; Lt. Gen. W. E. Palmer, G4, which handles movement of supplies; and Lt. Gen. G. H. Decker, Army comptroller.

"Broad and searching questions will be asked," Chairman Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) said in advance of the hearing.

"It is apparent that there has been much red tape which will effectively deal with by Army officials. The ammunition program did not receive the driving force it deserved."

Ex-Officer Pleads Guilty to Spying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Otto Verber, an Austrian-born former U. S. Army intelligence officer, pleaded guilty today to conspiring to spy on American defense secrets for Russia.

Verber, 31, entered his surprise plea before U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff.

The judge said he would impose sentence later. Verber faces a maximum to ten years in prison. James C. Toomey, court-appointed counsel for Kurt Ponger, 33, Verber's codefendant and brother-in-law, told reporters that his client intends to stand trial.

Verber pleaded guilty to one of the two charges in the indictment against him and Ponger.

This count alleges that he and Ponger conspired together and with others to collect information concerning the U. S. Army and Air Force in Austria and in this country for transmission to Russia.
